Knouse Corporation Receives WFA "A" Award For "Outstanding Achievement" During Year

800 Employees Receive Pins Symbolic of Participation In Effort

In the presence of representatives of the Army and Navy and civilian institutions and organizations from many parts of the county, the Knouse Corporation of Peach Glen and its 800 employees were presented with the War Food Administration "A" award for outstanding achievement at brief but impressive exercises conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Ardentville high school building.

The award, which speakers said is comparable to the Army-Navy "E" and to the Distinguished Service Medal for men in the armed forces, was conferred before an audience of employees and guests of the Knouse Corporation that jam-packed the school auditorium.

Signal Honor

The honor given the Knouse Corporation for its food production records at the Peach Glen and Chambersburg plants was the first of its kind in the county, the second in the state and the third in all of eastern United States and possibly in the nation.

The WFA conferred a similar award to the H. J. Heinz Corporation at Chambersburg Tuesday morning. WFA representatives at Ardentville Tuesday said only one other such award has been given in this region which covers the eastern seaboard. They knew of no other earlier award of its kind anywhere in the United States, they said.

Judge W. C. Sheely, chairman of the Civilian Defense council of the county, presided at the ceremonies in which representatives of the Army, Navy, and Knouse management and employees took part. After the program M. E. Knouse, president of the company, invited the audience to remain for refreshments and for an evening program of entertainment.

Given Flag, Pins

Formal presentation of the "A" flag, bearing a large "A" circled by a head of grain and a machine cog with a white star in an upper corner of the deep green background, was made by Captain C. E. Leavitt, executive officer at the Mechanicsburg Naval depot.

The citation accompanying the pins now worn by all Knouse employees was made by Barr V. Washburn, deputy director of the north-eastern region of the office of distribution of the WFA in New York city.

County Is Honored

While the band from the 55th College Training Detachment at Gettysburg college played "Anchors Aweigh," the new banner was run up a flagpole at the front of the auditorium. Similar awards in future years will bring the addition of stars on the green flag.

The exercises opened promptly at 5 p. m. after a preliminary band concert with the singing of one stanza of "America."

In his preliminary remarks, Judge Sheely told Knouse corporation officials and employees they may feel "justly proud" of the service they have performed for the war effort. "You have honored yourselves and the people of Adams county," he declared. "By your industry you have earned the highest award your government can confer upon you and it is fitting that both management and employees be honored."

"Outstanding Citizen" He paid tribute both to the "intelligence, industry and loyalty" of the company's workers and to "an intelligent, sympathetic and far-seeing management" that made possible the achievement for which the company was honored. He paid a special tribute to Mr. Knouse as "one of the outstanding citizens of Adams county."

Judge Sheely presented Captain Leavitt, a veteran of 35 years' service in the U. S. Navy. The Navy officer listed food as a "decisive weapon of war." He continued: "All the weapons in the world would be of no avail if our fighting men lacked food. The average service man eats 50 per cent more per day than the average civilian and every victory adds to the number of hungry people to be fed abroad. Food also must be supplied for many of our allies and for our own civilians." (Please Turn to Page 2)

Holding the WFA "A" award banner are (left to right): M. E. Knouse, corporation President; Barr V. Washburn, deputy regional director for the WFA; Mrs. Pauline Nell, a representative of the employees, and Capt. C. E. Leavitt, executive officer from the Mechanicsburg Naval Depot who formally presented the flag.

Immediately after the presentation by Capt. Leavitt (left), Mr. Knouse and Miss Katherine Golden, a company employee, are shown holding the WFA banner awarded for outstanding achievement in food processing. In the foreground may be seen several of the members of the 55th College Training Detachment band from Gettysburg college which furnished music for the ceremonies.

Here Miss Norma Crum, secretary to Mr. Knouse, is being presented with her "A" award pin by Richard Shelton, a WFA official, while three company employees, Blair Biesecker, Samuel Miller and Joseph Harter, look on.

TO ERECT HONOR ROLL AT SCHOOL

Plans for the erection of an honor roll at Gettysburg high school bearing the names of former students who are now serving or have served in the armed forces during this war were advanced at a meeting of a committee from the Student Council and representatives of the Alumni Council of the school.

The date and details of the dedication of the honor roll for which the committee already has listed more than 500 names will be announced later. The committees now are concerned with completing the list of names.

The committees said that their present list is not complete and asked that names of additional men and women who should appear on the roll be turned over to the Student Council at the high school.

The Student Council committee for the honor roll includes: Shirley Larkin, John Harner, Gladys Smith and Canella Cargas. Members of the Alumni committee are Robert D. Fidler, Mrs. Mary E. Messner, Mrs. Lillian D. Stoops, Carl S. Menchey, Robert B. Martin, Melvin O. Little and LeRoy H. Winebrenner.

Muddy Shoe Causes Automobile Mishap

Mud on the shoes of J. C. Leinart, near Hampton, caused a two-car collision and damage estimated at $65 at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon on the New Chester-Hampton road.

Leinart was driving out of his private driveway, according to Privately George Evanko, of the local state police, and planned to stop at the end of the driveway to wait until a car driven by Alvin E. Groupe, New Oxford R. 3, had passed. Mud on Leinart's shoes caused his foot to slip off the brake and the car shot forward into the rear of the Groupe car, he said. There were no injuries and no prosecution was made.

Stalin Says Nazis Fail To Disrupt Harmony Of Allies

London, Feb. 23 (AP)—All German attempts to "introduce disharmony in the camp of the anti-Hitler coalition" are doomed to failure, Premier Stalin told the Russian people today in a special order of the day commemorating the 26th anniversary of the Red Army.

Praising the Red Army for smashing Germany "to the edge of catastrophe," the Russian Premier again emphasized his contention that Russia has been bearing the brunt of the war effort, but declared:

"All the more hopeless will the situation of Hitlerite Germany be when the main forces of our Allies go into action and the powerful and growing offensive of the Allied states is launched against Hitlerite Germany."

"It should now be clear to all that Hitlerite Germany is advancing inevitably toward catastrophe. The hour of final reckoning for all the crimes committed by the Hitlerites on Soviet soil and in the occupied countries of Europe is approaching."

Red Cross Asks For Completed Garments

The Adams County Red Cross today urged all persons who have completed articles to turn them in to the county office at once in order that a planned shipment of knitted goods may be made.

The county office also asked persons having sets of double pointed needles which they are not using to turn them in, in order that the knitting program may continue. It is impossible to obtain new sets of the needles, it was stated.

$2,613,300 IN WAR BOND SALES

Sale of War Bonds through the close of business last Saturday gave Adams county a new high in overall sales of $2,613,300 or $565,700 "over the top" in the Fourth War Bond campaign.

Total sales of all types of bonds to individuals reached $894,000, only $30,563 short of the quota of $924,563. This quota is expected to be reached before the official drive closes next Tuesday at midnight.

However, the sale of "E" bonds is still short of its goal. Total sales thus far in that bracket are $390,600 or $103,967 short of the quota of $494,567.

In a telegram to Edmund W. Thomas, County War Finance committee chairman, G. Ruhland Reimann, Jr., state chairman said:

"For your part in this fine accomplishment the country owes you a large debt of gratitude."

Adams county has exceeded its over-all quota by 128 per cent, highest attainment in the 4 war bond drives conducted since Pearl Harbor.

STRONG WINDS; LITTLE DAMAGE

The traditional March winds, apparently practicing in February in order to "come in like a lion" in March, started early this morning. Little damage apparently resulted from the gale. A check of the light and telephone companies and the state highway department revealed there was little or no damage in the county.

The Metropolitan Edison company was called to investigate a wire failure near Biglerville, with three houses in that section reporting they were without current. It was not known immediately just what may be causing the difficulty. The United Telephone company reported that a larger number of complaints of phone failure than usual were reported this morning, but in most cases normal insulation failure, brought about partially by the wind, caused the breaks.

Two tin smoke stacks on chimneys at the Murphy building, Baltimore street, were toppled by the breeze, but the damage was slight and a workman replaced the stacks today.

FARM BUREAU ANNIVERSARY MEETING TODAY

The Adams county Farm Bureau Cooperative today marked its tenth anniversary by voting to increase its capitalization from $35,000 to $100,000 and by increasing the number of directors of the organization. The capitalization increase must be approved by the state.

Harrison F. Snyder, Littlestown; Millard F. Stoner, Fairfield, and George Taughnbaugh, Gettysburg R. D. were named as directors for three years; Joseph C. Klunk, Edge Grove, was named as a new director for three years and Vernon Rife, New Oxford, was elected a director for two years. The annual session is being held at the Gettysburg high school today.

The resolution increasing the capitalization of the Farm Bureau pointed out that "the earnings of the organization have tremendously increased" since the organization of the cooperative a decade ago and that future expansions are planned in the post-war period.

Increased Sales

The report of the treasurer, E. W. Weaver, disclosed that a total net saving of $27,546.06 was effected during the last year, with the Farm Bureau doing $298,940.32 worth of business. Total expenses for the organization, including rent, salaries, wages, totaled $17,958.71. The cost of the goods sold by the Farm Bureau was $27,320.92.

Sales during the last year were an increase of 85.4 per cent over the previous year, it was reported. Net profits increased $13,632.50 over 1942. Assets of the organization were set at $75,108.40, an increase of $19,096.19 over last year with most of the increase in inventory.

Jennings B. Collins, head of the Farm Bureau Insurance in the county, reported that the county led the state during last October in sales of life insurance. The county's sales for the month were $105,000.

Ten Years' Growth

A history of the past ten years' activities was presented by G. Marion Stambaugh, manager of the cooperative in his annual report this morning.

The first year's business was $27,277.67 with 98 common stockholders in the organization. The cooperative was incorporated April 5, 1934, with a capitalization of $5,000. By 1940 the total capitalization had been increased to $35,000. The present Farm Bureau building was constructed in the winter of 1935-36 and the present mill at the rear was built in 1940. The warehouse and mill at New Oxford were secured in 1942.

Pay Dividend

During the last year the association distributed 3,200 tons of feeds valued at $193,244.80; 1,266 tons of fertilizer worth $41,671.87; grass seeds, soy beans and the like worth $19,549.80; seed potatoes worth $6,127.03; spray materials worth $6,486.47; paint worth $3,530.28 and other equipment worth $21,437.93. The mill ground and mixed 1,143 tons of grain, an increase of 443 tons over the previous year. Mr. Stambaugh reported. Present stockholder membership is 878.

The association paid out $16,059.54 in a 6.1 per cent dividend on the common stock and placed $10,464.37 in the reserve fund of the organization. Interest on outstanding common and preferred stock was also paid from the earnings. The balance sheet the last year shows that the ratio of total assets to total liabilities is now $6.67 to $1.

A. C. Keefer, president of the organization, presided at the session with approximately 350 in attendance.

Allies Frustrate German Rushes On Beachhead

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

Allied Headquarters, Naples, Feb. 23 (AP)—American troops threw back two localized German attacks west of Cisterna yesterday, Allied headquarters announced today, as Field Marshal Albert Kesselring brought his long-range artillery into play and apparently regrouped his forces for another attempt at driving the Allies off the Anzio beachhead.

Nazi artillery lobbed shells at the nerve center of Anzio and other beachhead objectives, and 130 German planes hit at ground troops, but the Allies countered with 1,600 aerial sorties, and gunfire against enemy troop and vehicle movements.

Lull In Cassino Sector

A lull continued in the fighting on the Cassino sector to the east. The Germans tried to infiltrate around Fifth Army outposts on two peaks northwest of the town, but withdrew under cover of a smoke screen when Allied artillery opened fire.

Otherwise headquarters reported only normal patrolling from both fronts, with more snowfalls hampering movements in the mountains.

British guns shelled enemy troops and vehicles near the Nazis' main concentration point of Carroceto. Allied group troops could see the Germans busily moving their forces in rear areas, indicating Kesselring was preparing for a renewed assault after repulse of his second major offensive last week-end.

The enemy also maintained steady pressure around the perimeter of the beachhead.

Germans Suffer Heavy Losses

The Germans sorely needed a breathing spell, for they suffered the heaviest casualties of any comparable period of the Italian campaign during their four-day assault from last Wednesday through Saturday.

One American battalion alone counted 500 German dead in front of its position southeast of Carroceto, where some of the bitterest fighting took place.

The German 114th Jaeger (rifle) division suffered particularly heavy losses. These troops were reported to have scattered in panic when Allied guns opened up with heavy fire.

In Recital Here

The public has been invited to attend the organ recital to be presented this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Church of the Abiding Presence at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary by Dr. C. Harold Eisecke, widely known authority on church worship and music and minister of music in the First Congregational church of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

First reports from Biglerville show $116 collected in that town, topping the total gathered there last year. A list of Biglerville donors is announced today along with additional names of Gettysburg contributors:

BOY, 10, STRUCK BY AUTO TODAY

Struck by a car as he darted out from back of a truck near the Evans grocery store in the third block of York street at noon today, Edward Roth, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Roth, 323 York street, is a patient in the Warner hospital this afternoon with a jaw injury, multiple lacerations of the tongue and contusions of the chin.

Chief of Police Glenn Guise, who investigated, said that the boy was struck by the right front fender of a car operated by Mrs. Lucy Heinenz, formerly of Gettysburg, now residing in Lancaster. Mrs. Heinenz told the officer the boy ran in front of the car. She applied the brakes, but there was not time to avoid striking the boy, she said. Her speed was estimated at about 20 miles an hour.

The youngster was taken to the hospital by Walter Crouse and was receiving treatment there this afternoon.

The boy was crossing the street from south to north, going from his home toward the Evans grocery store when the accident occurred. Mrs. Heinenz was coming here to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. Wilbur Stallsmith to be held Thursday morning.

CHURCHILL SAYS ALLIES UNITED ON WAR POINTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
British Prime Minister Churchill's unadorned war review before the House of Commons yesterday was another of his masterful efforts and one which must increase Allied confidence in the state of our global conflict.

Mr. Churchill is indeed an inspiring speaker. For twenty-seven years now I've been listening in the gallery of commons to his brilliant addresses, or reading them in the world's press, almost hoping whimsically at times that he would display sufficient weakness to deliver a bad one, but thus far he has failed me.

Hard Days To Come
Without encouraging over-confidence—indeed with a warning of hard days to come—the Prime Minister's summary clearly showed that we are on the road to victory both in Europe and in the Orient. However, he displayed his usual astuteness in refusing to predict when the European war will end. He couldn't guarantee it would be this year, or yet that it would extend into next year, but (just a fillip of cheer) it "may not be so far away."

Of far greater importance than the date of war's end was his assurance that the big three—Britain, Russia and the United States—still are "absolutely united." Indeed, as I see it, this was the outstanding point in his speech.

Unity Is Vital
Unity among these three dominant powers is vital not only to the winning of the war but to peace. A rupture in the partnership likely would mean a third world conflict.

Mr. Churchill assured commons that "none of the ground made good at Moscow or Teheran" has been lost despite disquieting articles in the Soviet press. He might have added that there also have been critical editorials in the American and British press. These rather sharp exchanges have caused no little public concern, and it's good to have the Prime Minister's reassurance.

With this I think we must link Churchill's insistence that Britain is intensely interested in maintaining Poland's independence—a statement which applies equally to the United States. Now that's vastly important, for I take it to mean that while the western Allies recognize that unity among the big three is essential to peace, yet this doesn't involve the abject surrender of high principles by any one of the trio. We stand erect.

Status Of Poland
Mr. Churchill was of course answering the fear expressed by some that Russia intends to take over not only the Polish territory she occupied in 1939 but perhaps other Polish territory as well. He asserted his conviction that repeated Moscow declarations for a strong, independent Poland "represent the settled policy of the Soviet Union." The Prime Minister confirmed that he and Stalin had agreed at Teheran "upon the need for Poland to obtain compensation at the expense of Germany both in the north and west." This means that the Allies have contemplated giving a reconstituted Poland the German province of East Prussia and some territory adjacent to Poland on the west. So at least this much dismemberment of the Reich is under consideration.

At the same time Churchill reiterated that the unconditional surrender which has been demanded "does not mean the German people will be enslaved or destroyed. Unconditional surrender means that the victors will have a free hand. It does not mean that they are entitled to behave in a barbarous manner, nor that they wish to blot out Germany from among the nations of Europe."

This presumably was intended to counteract Hitler's propaganda that the Allies intend to enslave the Germans and destroy the Reich. By instilling such a fear in the mind of the German people, the Nazi dictator hopes to prolong the war and save his own hide.

Walter H. McLaughlin

Walter Herbert McLaughlin, 46, died suddenly Sunday morning at 7:30 o'clock at his home in Hagerstown. He had been in ill health for the past year, and two weeks ago was unable to continue his work. On Saturday he returned to his employment as crane operator at the Western Maryland shops.

He was born at Fairfield, the son of Charles H. and Amanda M. (Smith) McLaughlin. His early life was lived at Highfield and at the age of 16 he went to work for the Western Maryland railway. He had been employed with them for the last 30 years. For the last 19 years he had lived in Hagerstown.

He was a member of the Washington Square Methodist church, member of the 805 Company of Minute Men and was a member of the Washington Square bowling team.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret M. Fitz McLaughlin; a daughter, Ella Corinne, at home; son Cpl. Jack McLaughlin, Columbia, South Carolina; also these brothers and sisters, Charles C., of Hagerstown; Lawrence, Glenn, Ira, Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. Lawrence Warren, all of Highfield.

CHILD WELFARE WORK OUTLINED

The monthly dinner of the Soroptimist club was held at the home of Mrs. Eva Pape, Buford avenue, Tuesday evening. The committee in charge comprised Miss Virginia Myers, Mrs. Irving Bierer, Mrs. Harvey Raffensperger and Mrs. Clyde D. Berger.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Grieb, local secretary of the Child Welfare services, was a guest and spoke to the club on her work in this county. She stated that her association is set up under the Social Securities Act and that the government gives aid to states which set up a standard that meets the standards of the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor. Sixteen counties have Child Welfare service.

In Adams county, she said, the work is mostly that of child placement, taking care of children away from their own homes, and the big problem now is to find enough foster homes. Foster parents must have a doctor's certificate and the child must be examined before being placed in a home which is inspected monthly. The child gets medical and dental care and clothing. The county commissioners pay board of $5 a week for children under three and $4 a week for those over three, with $5 a week for those requiring special care.

Sixty children are now being cared for in Adams county in temporary and permanent homes. Very few children are available now for legal adoption, the speaker said. Mrs. Grieb, who has been in Gettysburg since last April, visits each foster home at least once a month and family ties are kept up by parental visits arranged through her office in the Murphy building. The youngest children in Mrs. Grieb's care at the present time are twins two years old.

The Soroptimist club has been co-operating in the work of the Child Welfare association since its establishment here and several members are on its executive board.

W. A. BANKERT HEADS STATE BANKING GROUP

Wilbur A. Bankert, treasurer of the Littlestown State bank was named chairman of Group Five of the Pennsylvania Bankers association at the forty-eight annual meeting of the group at Harrisburg, Tuesday. He succeeds Chester E. Adams, Waynesboro.

Arnold Orner, cashier of the Arendtsville National bank was named to the nominating committee of the Federal Reserve bank of Philadelphia. I. C. Bucher, cashier of the Gettysburg National bank retired from that committee after serving during the past year.

State Official Speaks

State Banking Secretary William C. Freeman told the group that state banking systems are "a bulwark against government-owned, government-controlled and government-subsidized credit."

He urged the bankers to play an "active roll in preventing the small army of government workers employed today by the OPA and other government agencies from taking over control of state banks after the war "according to a report from The Associated Press.

The group also heard Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, pastor of Marble Collegiate church, New York, oppose a fourth term for President Roosevelt after asserting "continued consolidation of power in one man and one party is dangerous to the continuance of the American system."

Countians at Meeting

Among those from Adams county attending the session were: I. C. Bucher, John Hewitt, Walter Keene, Edmund W. Thomas, J. I. Burgoon, S. G. Spangler, J. C. Shank, A. E. KNOUSE

"Your achievement is deserving of the highest praise. More than 60 per cent of the products of the Knouse corporation goes to the armed forces and they rate among the highest in quality. You have done more than your share. Your work has been in keeping with the best American traditions of hard work and initiative."

"A Job Well Done"
The captain unfurled the banner and handed it to Mr. Knouse and to Miss Katherine Golden, a representative of the employees. Then as the band played the Navy song in deference to Captain Leavitt, two cadets ran the new banner to the top of the improvised pole.

In his formal acceptance speech, Mr. Knouse thanked the WFA and declared his company and workers "find satisfaction in a job well done and a new challenge to further aid the war effort in the production of food."

He predicted more acute manpower shortages but urged his workers to meet the emergency by "patronizing your spirit after the courage of our boys at the front. Let us give our armed forces no cause to doubt our support and let us make sure that when they return they may know we contributed to their victory." Reporting that plans are being made now for 1944 production, he called for close cooperation between grower, processor and labor to meet new high WFA goals for the year.

"A Grateful Nation"
Deputy Director Washburn in his speech preliminary to the awarding of "A" pins to Knouse employees told the audience that food is as important in this war as planes and ammunition.

"It is the job of the WFA to produce, process and deliver at the right place and the right time the food that is necessary for our armed forces, our civilians, our allies and for needy people in liberated areas. Every food industry worker helps win that victory. A grateful nation appreciates your important contribution here."

As he handed pins to Miss Golden, Edward Staub, Blair Bieseker, Mrs. Pauline Nell, Samuel Miller and Joseph Harter, employee representatives who occupied seats on the platform, all of the Knouse employees in the auditorium rose and pinned on their own awards.

JAPS FAIL TO SHOW FIGHT IN PACIFIC AREA

By MORRIS LANSBERG

Associated Press War Editor
Allied air operations yielded evidence today of success in the steady campaign to knock out Rabaul as the pivotal base for war-won Japanese territory in the Southwest Pacific.

In another significant development, the Southeast Asia command announced that Allied troops are seizing the initiative from the Japanese on the Arakan front in Burma.

General Douglas MacArthur reported that the Japanese failed to send up a single interceptor plane to oppose Sunday's 52-ton bombing of Lakunai airdrome in furtherance of the daily assault on Rabaul at the northeast tip of New Britain Island.

Heavy Losses
Reconnaissance showed the lowest number of planes and ships ever spotted at Rabaul, indicating a withdrawal by the enemy as the result of recent heavy losses. Allied attacks have cost the Japanese 55 vessels sunk and probably more than 300 aircraft shot down in February.

Associated Press Correspondent Murlin Spencer wrote from Allied headquarters, however, that with the enemy's ability to move planes in and out of Rabaul without great difficulty, "it is unsafe to say that the Japanese are even thinking of abandoning Rabaul."

Both in the New Britain area and in the northern Solomons, Allied naval units added to the toll of Japanese barges which President Roosevelt said yesterday probably amounted to a thousand in the last year, accounting for a large number of enemy personnel.

The Chief Executive praised what he termed amazing cooperation among the armed services in the Marshall Islands and Truk operations—operations carried out with the damage of only one vessel.

The U. S. carrier assault on Truk, No. 1 enemy naval base in the central Pacific, accomplished more than the destruction of 19 ships and 201 planes.

BOUDREAU MAY BE FIRST BOSS TO BE DRAFTED

Cleveland, Feb. 23 (AP)—Lou Boudreau, who is the Cleveland Indians' 26-year-old manager, may be the first major league team pilot to be drafted in the present war.

"I'm ready to go—just like the rest of 'em," Lou said at Chicago after his reclassification to 1-A by his Harvey, Illinois, draft board.

He has no idea how soon he will be called, the youngest of big league managers and one of the outstanding infielders said today.

Leo Durocher, Brooklyn Dodgers' manager, was rejected in the spring, and the next youngest major league boss is Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox who will be 38 in October.

Boudreau, who has led American league shortstops in fielding since 1940, his first full season in the majors, will be 27 in July. He is married and the father of two children.

Going to Carry On

The Indians' manager came to the Tribe late in the 1939 season via Buffalo to which he had been optioned. He became the youngest major league pilot when he took over the Indians in 1942.

Ray Mack's decision to remain on his war job, reported three weeks ago, and the possible drafting of Boudreau would break up what sports scribes have called the greatest double play combination in the major leagues. Last year, Boudreau set an American league record for participation in double plays.

At Chicago, the youthful pilot said earlier in speaking of the Indians' status "where we will get the personnel I do not know for sure but I do know we will keep a team on the field and continue the game of baseball." He reported 13 Tribesmen were in war plant work and six were 4-F's.

1943 DIFFERENT FOR DON HUTSON

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Chicago, Feb. 23 (AP)—Don Hutson, now on the Green Bay Packers' coaching staff, can look back on 1943 as the most unusual season in his record-crusted football career.

The slender pass receiving genius had to wait 14 years before experiencing the satisfaction of running a long way for a touchdown. On November 14 against the Chicago Cardinals, Hutson intercepted a pass, cut to the sidelines for 15 yards, then zig-zagged down the center of the field like a rudderless boat. Finally he rammed into the end zone, 84 yards from his starting point.

It was the third time in nine years of pro ball he had actually run for a touchdown, although he had counted 83 times—a national football league life-time record—after snagging passes. It was the longest scoring run he ever had accomplished—in high school, with the University of Alabama or with the Packers.

Tops Scorers

In what probably was his final season as a player, Hutson received 47 passes—11 for touchdowns—last fall to win the receiving title for the third straight year and also made 117 points to win the scoring championship for the fourth time in a row. On October 31 against New York he surprised even himself by tossing a 38-yard touchdown pass—the only one he ever threw.

Hutson was officially credited today with making 12 touchdowns last season, the same number as New York's Bill Paschal, the ball-carrying champion. But the packer end won the scoring crown with a 45-point margin over Paschal by virtue of 36 successive conversions and three field goals. Harry Clark of the Chicago Bears was third in scoring with 60 points.

Maroons To Meet Bullet Freshmen

A large crowd is expected to turn out tonight for the double-header basketball program scheduled for the Gettysburg college court.

In the main event, the Gettysburg high school team will meet "Hen" Bream's Gettysburg college freshmen. The Maroons eked out a narrow win over the Bullets in a game played on the high school court two weeks ago.

At 7 o'clock the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary quintet will meet Shippenburg State Teachers' college. In two previous games, both played at Shippenburg, the teams divided.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 23 (AP)—George look into high school baseball, might Trautman, Jack Zeller and Warren Giles, the professional committee to do worse than take a good look at the Illinois State high school tournament next spring. Its entry of 88 teams isn't big for a state the size of Illinois, but reports from Peoria, where Coach Dick Baxter originated the event, say there's plenty of enthusiasm and the committee might spread it to other states. In fact, one of the big attractions for the kids is the presence of major league scouts at the finals. The tourney was only started in 1940, but the finals, played at Oak Park and Cicero the past two years, draw crowds of 5,000 or more.

JIGGERS, MORE FIGGERS

Today's report on basketball's scoring leaders: Sam Trombatore of Loyola of the South has scored 383 points in 15 games for an average of 25.5 points a game against major competition.

WHO VAULTED HIGHER?

Seeing Army's Phil Lansing win the pole vault at last week's New York AC track meet reminded Ensign Greg Rice that another pole vaulter from Missoula, Mont., was responsible for his own start in big-time track competition. A kid named Fred Stein had done well enough that Missoula took up a collection to send him to Stag's interscholastic meet in Chicago. When the money was counted there was enough to send another boy, too, so Greg was chosen. Everybody knows Rice's record as a two-miler, but what ever became of Stein?

One reason for listening carefully to the story that Sammy Baugh will be the next coach of the Redskins is the report that Turk Edwards, another possible choice, isn't any too popular with the Washington players. Nat Fleischer's third and biggest ring record book, containing the records of all champions since 1719 and virtually all the important present-day fighters, in and out of the services, will be off the presses in April. Back in 1890, a pitcher who won 22 games for the Cleveland National leaguers but lost 31 was named, most appropriately, Tom Beatin. And when Frank Smith of the White Sox was nosed out of a no-hitter in the opening game of 1910, the St. Louis player who spoiled it in the ninth inning was Raymond Demmitt.

Marine Capt. Harold O. Spears, former Ohio university football ace, bagged his 14th Zero over Rabaul early this month. Given the time and the players, Florida should see some good football next fall with Lieut. Comdr. Mal Elward holding down the post as athletic officer at the De Land Naval Air Station, Lieut. Emerson (Spike) Nelson at the Melbourne Station and Lieut. Ray (Bear) Wolf at the Miami Air Station. Air Corps racing fans have given such names as "Exterminator," "Phar Lap," "Whirlaway" and "Here Comes Malicious" to Flying Fortresses now in action. And wouldn't you like to have a duce on any one of them when they come down the homestretch.

Veteranians To Decide Alsab Race

Miami, Fla., Feb. 23 (AP)—Whether Al Sabath's Alsab will run in the $25,000 Widener at Hialeah Park March 4 apparently rested today on the report of three veterinarians who ordered him out of a prep sprint yesterday, thereby starting a controversy.

Just before the race the veterinarians contended the Sabath horse was injured but Sabath, dissenting vigorously, invited the crowd over the loud speaker to stay and watch Alsab run anyway in a public demonstration of his fitness.

As the shadows fell across the deserted stands, a few hundred people saw the horse which had won $349,870 for the Sabaths, breeze the three quarters in a flat 1:16. "And the jock didn't urge him or touch him with the whip," Sabath declared afterward while the doc-

MAROON SCRUBS TRIP E. BERLIN

Roger Smith's Gettysburg high school reserve basketball team won its fifth straight game and its 12th of the season Tuesday evening by defeating East Berlin high on the latter's court 39-27.

At half time the Maroons led 17-10 and then put on a 16-point attack in the third period to sew up the decision. High scoring honors went to Mummert, East Berlin guard, who accounted for eight goals. Saylor and Heintzelman topped the Maroon attack with 10 tallies apiece.

In a preliminary game the East Berlin Jayvees whipped the Maroon third team after a close game 23-20. At half time Gettysburg led 11-8.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 23 (AP)—Steve Sundra, big right hander of the St. Louis Browns, has had his Selective Service records transferred from an Ohio city to Atlantic City, his present home, and Atlantic City draft officials said last night that if his papers arrived before March 3, the pitcher would be called for a pre-induction test then. Sundra, who won 15 and lost 11 for the Browns last year, was unavailable for comment.

Chicago, Feb. 23 (AP)—Chicago's Blackhawks haven't been able to keep in the National Hockey league first division but they're tops in attendance this season.

President Bill Tobin says the Hawks, with six more home games, will have played before 350,000 fans, a record. In 19 home games, the attendance was 263,606. He also said indications were that the league's total attendance record of 1,564,999 set in 1941-42 would be broken this season.

Veteran Fireman Served 51 Years

Pittsburgh, Feb. 23 (AP)—Captain Alvin K. Foster, who declares "there isn't a man in this part of the country been in continuous firefighting service as long as I have," has retired at the age of 73 after almost 51 years with the Pittsburgh fire department.

The captain joined the force in 1893 when there were 19 companies, each depending upon horse-drawn equipment. There now are 58 companies. Since 1915 he has been a training instructor. He estimates he directed the instruction of an average of 850 men yearly.

Rejected By Army, Returns To Links

Philadelphia, Feb. 22 (AP)—Harold "Jug" McSpaden, hottest golfer in the winter circuit, hit the tournament trail again today, rejected for military service because of acute asthma.

The 34-year-old Philadelphia Country club pro was classified 4-F after an Army induction center examination yesterday and left immediately to compete in a week-end tournament in New Orleans.

McSpaden's draft board called him back from his triumphant western tour several days ago. In several tournaments he had established himself as the season's top pro money winner and lowest scorer.

REJECTED BY ARMY, COURT STAR SHINES

By BILL KING

Orono, Maine, Feb. 23 (AP)—Warned to take it easy last July when the Army Air Corps discharged him because of a heart murmur, Ernie Calverley of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, a member of the colorful Rhode Island State basketball team, today loomed as the east's top court scorer with a total of 518 points in 19 games.

To date the 4-F Calverley has averaged 27.26 points in all of his 19 games and he has one more to go, against the University of Connecticut on March 4.

Although standing only 5-10 and considered very thin for an outstanding courtster, Calverley has managed to function as the most valuable performer on his team and the most accurate shooter from the floor.

45 Points Last Night
As several of his opponents have agreed, "Calverley does not look strong enough to even walk across the court and when he attempts it, no insurance company would consider him anything but a walking corpse."

Last night here Calverley tossed in a total of 45 points against the University of Maine forces, including 27 in the first half. During that time, Maine managed to have possession of the ball only a total of two minutes. That gives the Pawtucket sharpshooter a national intercollegiate record as his forces romped to a 115-37 win over the Maine quintet. He still has, however, one more game to go.

Calverley entered Rhode Island State in June of 1942 and that fall he won a regular post on a Rams' team that won 16 games and lost three. During his first season, Calverley set an individual record of 41 points against Massachusetts State.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 23 (AP)—Two more Pirate outfielders are in the fold for 1944 today, the Pittsburgh ball club announced, after receipt of the signed contracts of Frank Colman and Johnny Barrett.

The combined wheat crops of Australia and Argentina are estimated at 388,000,000 bushels for 1944.

Who makes the fairest show means most deceit.—Pericles.

Just Folks
ASH WEDNESDAY
Ashes upon the head
As sorrow for our sins.
Now let our prayers be said
As Lent again begins.

Ashes! A custom old
By which remorse was signed
By members of the fold
For sins of every kind.

So in this troubled year,
With God and right assailed,
May our remorse appear
If we, somehow, have failed.

If we the hand have stayed,
Or followed a paltry bent,
Or faltered or delayed,
Let us today repent!

Today's Talk
VALUES

There is no greater gain in this world than to have appraised life's values in such a way as to have gained the respect of those about you, and added thereby to the respect that you gain for your own God-given abilities.

Beauty, kindness, consideration, loyalty, friendliness are but a few of the values that measure high in any appraisal. If these are neglected, and a life of selfishness pursued, these values shrink in their application, and disappear, leaving but dissatisfaction and disappointment.

It is often a good thing to ask ourselves whether the thing we do is worth while or not. If it isn't, then its value is as nothing. Many a one neglects his health by too close an application to business, whereas he should vary his life by outdoor refreshment, or by some useful or interesting hobby. A change of scene has often brought a man suddenly to himself. He then realizes how he has neglected more important values than those centering about the mere task of earning money.

Many give no thought to the spiritual values until they hover close to death. There is no comfort so great as that which accompanies faith in a Superior Being, by which a man is able to chart his course safely and happily to the very end of life's trail.

In nature are the answers to a multitude of questions that concern every one of us. In the birth of a flower can be learned more than is contained in a library of books, or in the idle talk of the market-place. Leonardo was forever under the spell of the wonders of nature. He would suddenly stop an important painting to go out into the world to learn more. Values fascinated him.

Life, at the most, is very short, so that an accurate appraisal of the multitude of values that crowd our daily thoughts, and consideration, are of the first magnitude, and should be neglected by none of us if we desire happiness through usefulness.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Wonder of Movement."

MAIN JAP FLEET NOW BELIEVED IN HOME WATERS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The mystery of the whereabouts of the big Japanese fleet which from time to time has anchored within the "invulnerable" shelter of all-powerful Truk is bringing this column many inquiries from readers.

Well, thanks for the compliment implied in asking me a question which the Allied high command itself probably couldn't answer definitely. Honestly compels me to admit that I don't know. Still there are some relative facts which are illuminating.

Fleet Took Warning

There have been numerous occasions during the war when a large Jap fleet was reported to be at Truk. This great base, which is one of the strongest ever developed, could shelter the Mikado's entire Navy easily. However, the exigencies of global conflict have compelled the Nipponese to keep their main strength in home waters, to protect the motherland, while Truk has been used as the chief station for the central and south Pacific operations.

The American force which carried out the devastating raid on Truk last week undoubtedly was much disappointed that it didn't find more warships in the anchorages, though unhappy Tokyo thinks the Yanks did well enough as it was. On February 4 two United States photo planes took pictures of Truk, and on their return to their home base Captain James Q. Yawn, of Bogue Chitto, Miss., a member of one of the crews, reported that he had counted twenty-five warships at one spot, adding:

"It looked like the whole Jap fleet was down there, and I saw only a part of one of the anchorages."

Anyway, "the whole Jap fleet" wasn't there when we attacked in force a fortnight later. The answer may be that the Japs, who saw the photo planes at work and turned anti-aircraft guns on them, took the appearance of the photographers as presaging a major attack and moved the greater portion of the Truk fleet to safe waters.

This would tend to substantiate the idea—widely held among Naval men—that the Japs will try to avoid a big battle with our Pacific fleet until the day of terrible reckoning when they will have to defend themselves in home waters. It probably means also that they no longer will risk basing a large fleet on Truk, since our recent advance into the Marshall Islands will enable us to raid the base by sea or by air more or less at will.

"PLAIN" FAMILY GOES TO MEXICO TO ESCAPE OPA

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 23 (AP)—Aaron H. Martin is one of Lancaster county's storied plain people—and he detests rationing.

He's never registered for a ration book—doesn't believe in it. When war and points came, Martin and his wife and five children began making their own shoes, raising and processing their own sugar cane, and doing without what rationed foods they couldn't produce on their own fertile lands.

Monday night the rugged, 59-year-old farmer gave up his one-man fight against coupons and what he calls regimentation.

To Farm in Mexico

He packed his family and few remaining belongings into a Pennsylvania railroad train and set off for a land where, as he put it, "there's no rationing and a man can do as he pleases."

Hereafter the Martins are going to farm in the state of San Luis Potosi, Mexico.

"The peons down there," says Martin, "are mighty friendly."

Midway in his war on points, the farmer left his family here and went to San Luis Potosi to investigate.

The simplicity of living below the border attracted him, and he no longer listened when officials of his Wenger Mennonite church, his neighbors and relatives, urged him to remain in the United States.

Instead, in one full swoop, he sold his 80-acre farm, his belongings, arranged for one draft-age son, Levi, 19, to hire out with a neighbor farmer here and told his other children, age from nine to eighteen, that they're about to enter upon a new and richer life.

He left his money in a Lancaster bank, and told the clerks he would send for it as soon as he has picked out a good farm.

How To Figure Your Income Tax

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—"Forgiveness" is a word with more than one meaning when applied to the federal income tax.

Congress argued a long time about "forgiving" part of one year's taxes in order to get a pay-as-you-go system started. But the net result is that you pay more, not less, taxes this year—unless you entered the armed services in 1942 or 1943, in which case you may be entitled to a refund.

In the average civilian's case, in addition to settling up anything still due on your 1943 taxes, you must pay by March 15 one-half of the uncanceled portion of 1942 taxes.

Remember, to begin with, that the payments you made on your 1942 income tax last March and June were applied, instead, against your 1943 tax liability.

"Forgiveness"
Congress enacted this "forgiveness" feature:

Either 75 per cent or $50, whichever amount is larger, of the lower year's taxes (1942 or 1943) is canceled.

Let's assume for the moment that your 1943 taxes are larger than 1942:

If your 1942 tax was $50 or less, it's canceled entirely.

If it was more than $50 but less than $66.67, exactly $50 of it is wiped off the slate.

But if it was more than $66.67, you still owe 25 per cent of it. For example, if your 1942 tax was $100, you still owe $25—of which half, $12.50, must be paid this March, and the other half next year.

However, if you're in line for a refund on your 1943 tax—if too much was withheld from your pay, for instance—the internal revenue collector can apply it against the whole amount of your uncanceled 1942 tax.

For Service Men

Those whose 1943 income was less than 1942 were required to file declarations of estimated tax last fall and pay at least the equivalent of their 1942 taxes. So these persons still owe 25 per cent of their 1943 taxes—instead of the full bill.

That's for civilians. If you entered the armed forces in 1942 or 1943, and your 1942 tax was greater than your 1943 tax, something else happens.

Then you're entitled to figure your 1942 tax again, eliminating all your earned net income for that year. That means all your wages, salary, fees or other income earned by personal service—up to $14,000. The first $3,000 of income always is treated as earned, even if some of it came from interest and dividends.

$1500 Exempt
In a great many cases, that means your 1942 tax becomes zero. Since the first $1500 of service pay is exempt from tax—in addition to the regular exemption—your 1943 tax also may well be zero. Then you can apply for a refund of any tax you've paid on 1942 income.

However, if you had enough civilian income in 1943 to owe a tax on it, you'll also owe an additional 25 per cent of it. That is, if your tax on 1943 civilian income figured to $100, you'd actually owe $125.

We'll take up the tax problems of the serviceman's wife later in this series.

LONERGAN CASE GOES ON TRIAL IN NEW YORK

By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD

New York, Feb. 23 (AP)—Wayne Lonergan, who stepped from a wheelchair pushing job at the world's fair into cafe society's inner circle, was summoned from city prison today for what promises to be New York's most sensational murder trial in years.

Against him stood a charge of murder—that he killed his beautiful, 23-year-old heiress wife, Patricia, and left her battered body on a blood-stained bed in their triplex apartment just four months ago tomorrow.

20 State's Witnesses
The start of his fight for life— which could end at the electric chair—found the 26-year-old Royal Canadian air force cadet's attorney still striving for another delay on a plea he was not prepared.

The tall, Canadian-born defendant himself was pictured by defense counsel Edward V. Broderick as "anxious to get things settled" and not unduly worried about the outcome.

With veteran, white-haired trial Judge John J. Freschi on the bench, Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet was expected to call at least 20 prosecution witnesses to tell the drama-packed story of the life and slaying of the young wife, heiress to a brewery fortune. Broderick gave no hint as to the number of defense witnesses.

Socialites Called
The prosecutor said the state's testimony would be completed in about a week.

From the cafe society circle came many of the principal witnesses—former showgirl, a magazine publisher, a Rome-born interior decora-

LAWYER HELD FOR SHOOTING PSYCHIATRIST

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—Robert I. Miller, 67, dean of Washington Municipal court attorneys, was held on an open charge in connection with the fatal shooting of a noted capital psychiatrist while Mrs. Miller, whom police described as one corner of a love triangle, was near collapse.

The dead man was Dr. John E. Lind, 57, a kin of Abraham Lincoln, and senior medical officer at Washington's St. Elizabeth's hospital. Police said Mrs. Miller, who gave her age as 42, had entered Lind's automobile at the corner of 11th and G streets, northwest—the heart of the capital's shopping center—about 1:20 p. m., yesterday. Almost immediately, Miller appeared, reached into the car, struggled with Lind and Lind was shot, once through the temple and again through the chest.

Claims Self-Defense

Detective Sergeant Robert Murray who reported Miller told him he had shot in self-defense, said that in addition to the pistol used in the shooting another was found on the seat of the car beside Lind, wrapped in an envelope. It had been discharged twice, but according to Murray apparently had not been used yesterday.

Traffic policeman Ernest B. Dickerson arrested Miller and detained Mrs. Miller as a material witness. He said Miller, when arrested, had been holding a .38 caliber pistol.

Both Miller and Lind had appeared in municipal court Monday, Miller as defense attorney in a drunk-driving case, and Lind as an expert witness in another case. Miller had been driven from court to the scene of the shooting by a court attache, who after discharging the attorney, had driven on.

Rose from Janitor

One of the best known attorneys in the capital, Miller was active in politics and was a delegate to the Republican national conventions in 1912 and 1916. His first job was as janitor in the court in which most of his cases were tried. He was a friend of former Vice President Charles P. Curtis, was a race track official and a prominent breeder of horses.

Dr. Lind, on his mother's side was a fourth cousin to Nancy Hanks, mother of Abraham Lincoln. He was an accomplished translator of medical works and a writer of children's songs.

GOP In Allegheny County Harmonious

Pittsburgh, Feb. 23 (AP)—Their ranks long torn by bitter internal strife, Allegheny county Republican leaders Monday night interred the tomahawk and agreed unanimously on candidates for Congress in two districts.

County Chairman John S. Herron said the conferees had agreed "the best interests of the Republican party would be served by avoiding controversy."

Candidates endorsed for Congress, Herron said, are Howard E. Campbell, president of the Pittsburgh Real Estate board, 29th district, and Sheriff Robert J. Corbett, 30th district.

The appearance of Corbett's name on a list approved by Herron was taken to mean that the party breach was entirely healed, as the interne-line strife of recent months had been greatly aggravated by the friction between these two leaders.

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

UPPER COUNTY FARMERS GO TO NIGHT CLASSES

Upper county farmers and fruit growers—going back to school in OSYA night classes at Arendtsville Vocational school and Biglerville high school—are learning how to make everything from a welding outfit to a properly mortised wheelbarrow.

Harry Garretson, who is attending the course at Biglerville, secured the parts for a welding apparatus and assembled it, including making a panel board and installing 15 different switches to give different powers to the welder. He also made the cabinet for the mechanism. Ryland Garretson also attending the Biglerville class brought a plowing machine that needed repairs. When he got through finding damaged parts about all that was left were the wheels and levers. He rebuilt the plow around that. And put a new steel tire on the trailer wheel. A twenty-four tooth spring tooth harrow was another machine rebuilt. Amby Harper was hard at work repairing a corn binder at Biglerville the night a reporter from The Gettysburg Times visited the class there.

Nearly 70 upper countians "out of school youths and adults," have attended the courses now in session at the two schools. Most of the men are oldsters who have been out of school for years and are now coming back to learn how to keep their farm machinery running for the duration of the war, despite shortages of all types of materials for repairs. A few are young men, recently graduated from agricultural education courses at the schools, who are continuing their instruction by taking the night classes.

Repair Own Machines
The present course at Arendtsville started November 15 and will run into the late spring. The men under the direction of Jack Clinch, agricultural education teacher at the school, have performed a number of jobs while learning how to fix their own machinery. All of the work was done on machines owned by those attending the courses.

One Arendtsville adult student combined the very practical with his own pleasure—he repaired an ice cream freezer, pointing out that it was a very important piece of machinery in his household.

Garden hoses, hatchets, axes, knives, chisels, saws and similar equipment are among the smaller articles repaired at Arendtsville. On the night a Gettysburg Times reporter visited there, one man was working on a large wheelbarrow for which he had made everything except the wheel. All of the parts were mortised together for added strength. Another man was repairing a circular saw, and another was converting a motor. A manure spreader was being rebuilt with a tractor hitch placed in front at the blacksmith shop to the rear of the school where the forge and welding equipment are placed. A field roller was being patched by bending iron to fit over a number of holes and then welding the bent iron strip to the roller.

Farmers Urged To Use Certified Seed

Adams County farmers who plan to grow soybeans for certification by the State during 1944 should plant only seed that already has passed all certification tests, according to K. W. Lauer, in charge of seed certification in the Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture.

Fields entered for certification should be planted separately to prevent mixture at the time the beans are harvested and threshed, he added. When the beans are planted, special care should be given to the grain drill to see that it is thoroughly cleaned and that no other grain is left in the grain hopper from the previous seeding operation.

Applications for inspection service for the certification of soybeans or other grains for seed should be made to the Bureau of Plant Industry before June 1, 1944.

she'll work," the men agreed. Among those attending the course at Arendtsville are Norman Beamers, Paul Beamers, Blaine D. Bushey, Merle Byers, Albert Gallagher, Jewell A. Gantz, Glen Hartman, Kermit Heller, Robert Kane, William Kane, Marshall W. Longacker, John N. Luckenbaugh, Clyde Orner Clyde Sell, Sterling Sell, Roy D. Tate, H. E. Taylor, K. E. Williams, Irvin Wiser, Roy Heckenluber, Lloyd Garretson, Carl Carey, Ralph Tyson, Blaine Hartman, Charles McDannel, Howard Kline, Herbert Lady, Luther Lady, Earl Martin, George Orner and Alvey Gantz.

At Biglerville high school Art Ebbert was refinishing a corner cupboard and had just filed, gummed and set a two-man cross cut saw. The men were interested in showing a 24-link log chain made of 3/4-inch metal and with each link 4 inches in diameter welded by Walter Melott who graduated from Biglerville high school last year and was an "ag" student there. They told how Francis Sterner straightened out a bent lawn mower blade on a lathe and how Donald Weaver, a Keystone farmer degree holder, made a frame for an apple grader and how Roy Wolf cut a glass for his flashlight.

End Course Next Month
The class is the third OSYA course held for out-of-school adults at Biglerville under the direction of Cecil Snyder, the ag teacher.

The Biglerville course started November 1, and will end in March. Among those attending the Biglerville classes held in the Musselman Industrial Arts building are Roy Wolfe, Harry Garretson, Ryland Garretson, Walter Melott, Guy Deardorff, Earl Smith, Glenn Kime, Arthur Ebbert, Francis Sterner, Zell Thomas, Charles Stock, Donald Garretson, John Arnold, Fred Bream, Robert Hartman, Earl Starner, Amby Harper Lester Warner, Eugene Rouzer, Donald Rouzer, Cameron Punt, Theron Slagle, Lewis Menchey, Raymond Seburn, Glenn Kime, Ray Punt, Robert Livingston, Herbert Miller, Fred Bream, Miles Starner, George Schriver, Donald Weaver, Junior Taylor and Walter Hayes.

FRUIT GROWERS TO HOLD ANNUAL MEET SATURDAY

The fruit outlook for the coming year—both from a national and a local standpoint, and the proposed changes in orchard management for the coming year will be highlights of the annual all-day meeting of the Fruit Growers Association of Adams county to be held Saturday at the Biglerville auditorium.

President Frederic E. Griest today urged that all orchard owners in the county attend the all-day session and that they bring with them their orchard men because of the importance of the meeting.

The program will get underway at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning with greetings from President Griest. Following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and treasurers' report by secretary-treasurer George Schriver, Bendersville, Ryland Garretson and Clark Fetters will present the report of the auditing committee.

Miners Study Plea To Return To Work

Shenandoah, Pa., Feb. 23 (AP)—Their "holiday" branded as unauthorized by the United Mine Workers of America, 8,000 idle miners of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company contemplated today a district UMW leader's plea that they return to work immediately.

Eight collieries and two breakers have been closed since Monday as a result of the stoppage, which centered around demands that the company reinstate Julius Barowsky, discharged Feb. 9, on charges of interfering with the management.

Barowsky since has been reclassified by his draft board from 2-B to 1-A.

A spokesman at the UMW headquarters in Washington characterized the holiday as an "outlaw strike" and blamed an unauthorized "royal committee." Andrew O'Boyle, sub district board member of District 9, UMW, urged immediate resumption of production.

The stoppage reduced the nation's anthracite production by 16 per cent.

DOUGHTON RAPS TAX THEORISTS OF WHITE HOUSE

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY N
Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—Rep. Doughton (D NC), 80-year-old Congressional tax leader, stormed back at President Roosevelt's veto of the new revenue bill today, declaring it raises a question of who is to write the tax laws, the President's "irresponsible theorists" or the people's elected representatives.

Charging Mr. Roosevelt ignored the constitutional responsibility of Congress in such matters, Doughton, a former proponent of Rooseveltian tax policies, declared the President's advisers "seem to have lost patience with constitutional government by law" and "favor government by executive decree."

The tall, rangy, quick-moving chairman of the tax-framing Ways and Means committee was joined in a blistering statement by Rep. Knutson of Minnesota, Republican leader on the committee.

Vote on Thursday
Together, in a further widening of the schism between Congress and the White House, they called upon Senate and House to override the veto and retain the "constitutional taxing authority" of Congress.

Indications now are that Congress will override the veto. The vote is set in the House tomorrow.

The President's veto message, which said the bill provides relief "not for the needy but for the greedy," set off a Congressional revolt that embraced leaders in his own party including Doughton, and Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Finance committee. The capitol heard reports that Senate Democratic Leader Barkley, of Kentucky, might join in the movement. On the other hand, Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) of the House Rules committee, declared the constitution gives the President not only the right but "the responsibility and duty" of vetoing legislation he deems not in the best interest of the country.

"The so-called revenue bill," Sabath said, "is a Republican bill, passed with the help of some Democrats."

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:
First, I want to thank you very much for sending me the paper. It surely helps me to keep in touch with that part of the world back there. Since being over here I have met two boys from Gettysburg. They are Bernard Little who lives on York street, and Henry Yingling. Didn't have very much time to talk to them.

I enjoy very much reading letters from other soldiers that are printed in your newspaper. So I'll expect you put this one there. Good luck, to everybody.

Sincerely,

Local Soldier Meets Countians In Ireland

Cpl. Eugene B. Miller, who is stationed somewhere in Ireland, in a better to The Gettysburg Times, tells of having met four Adams countians at a dance recently.

His letter follows:

Dear Sir:
It's soon time I let my friends know how I'm getting along over here in Ireland. I was on a two-day pass recently and I met some of my buddies from my home town, they are about thirty or forty miles from where I'm stationed. I met Cpl. Fred Slaghaugh, from Bislerville, Pfc. Richard Shriver who is from Gettysburg and a Spalding boy from Gettysburg. I wanted to see a boy by the name of Kump but he happened to be at another place. I also met Jim Miller from Gettysburg. He isn't any relation, but when I shook hands with him it felt like he was my brother. I met the majority of these boys at a dance. Boy that sure is a thrill to shake hands with the boys

Associated Press correspondent Norman Bell volunteered for a war reporting assignment immediately after Pearl Harbor. From Nov. 17, 1942 when he joined the United States fleet at Honolulu to June 4, 1943, he slept ashore but three nights, reporting the Pacific war during its first dark days.

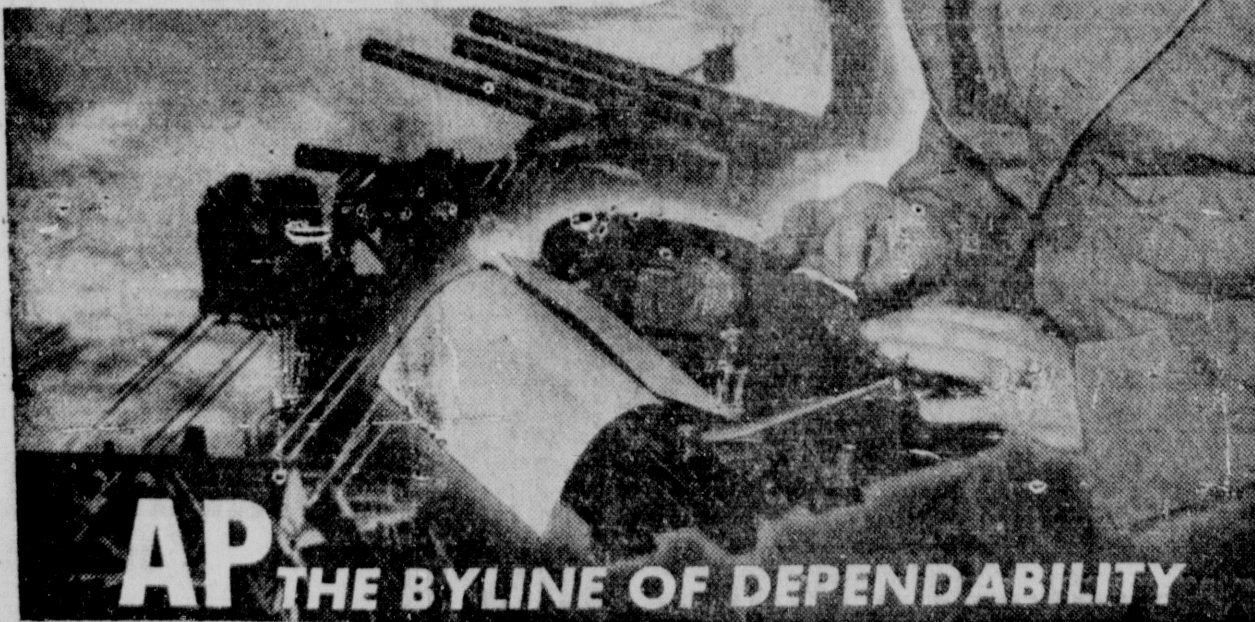

Then Bell was assigned to the North Pacific where he ranged those icy waters for months on end alert for the big story he knew some day was sure to break.

It did and Norman Bell alone was on the job.

In the space of a few days, Bell became the first United Nations correspondent to fly with U.S. Navy raiders over the Japanese homeland, bombing Paramushiro Island and the only war reporter to accompany a United States task force shelling Paramushiro for the first time.

Thus, Bell's initiative and persistence were rewarded and readers of this and hundreds of other AP newspapers were given exclusively some of the best eye-witness stories to come out of this war.

Firsthand stories by Norman Bell and scores of ace AP reporters at the fighting fronts the world over appear in this newspaper.

4 REICH CITIES SHUDDER UNDER AERIAL ATTACK

London, Feb. 23 (AP)—Savage German opposition failed to halt the earth-shaking Allied air offensive yesterday as heavy American bombers, striking their first co-ordinated blows from Britain and Italy, swept through swarms of Nazi fighters to pound major aircraft factories at four cities deep in Germany.

RAF Mosquitoes maintained the bomb-rain during the night, hitting unspecified objectives in western and southwestern Germany without loss. As many as 200 German planes soared up at some places to hurl yellow-flashing rockets at the raiders, but the bombers from Britain bore through them, blasting the Junkers 88 assembly plant at Bernburg for the second time in three days and simultaneously hitting airframe and component factories at Aschersleben and Halberstadt. The Italy-based bombers rained explosives on two Messerschmitt fighter plants at Regensburg.

Allies Lose 41. An announcement said the formations from Italy were in record strength.

Forty-one of the Britain-based bombers failed to return after the fierce battles, which some returning crewmen described as even more intense than those of the Schweinfurt raid of last October, when the Americans lost 60 bombers.

Allied headquarters in Italy did not disclose losses in the Regensburg raid in its regular communique today, but announced that 15 Allied planes were lost and 50 Nazi aircraft were destroyed in all of yesterday's operations, which included attacks on numerous objectives in Italy. American fighters escorting the bombers from England destroyed 58 Nazi aircraft and the total Nazi losses probably will rise when the bombers' score is compiled. One American fighter was destroyed and 10 were reported missing.

A U. S. communique listed only the number of planes shot down by American fighters based in England. Since RAF, Dominion and Allied fighters also provided support, it was reasonable to assume that they added to the enemy losses.

The bombers from Britain also attacked airfields and other targets in southern and central Germany while those from Italy blasted ports on the Dalmatian coast and the Zagreb airport. So deep into Germany did some of the Britain-based bombers penetrate that their fighter escort was unable to accompany them all the way to the target.

Heavy anti-aircraft fire also was encountered and the flak in one section was described as even worse than over the Ruhr valley.

U. S. SEIZES WATER PLANT

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt ordered Secretary of War Stimson today to take over and operate the strike-crippled Los Angeles Municipal Water and Power Department.

A 10-day strike by department employees has left some 160 war plants and 125,000 homes and business establishments without electricity. While the President frequently has ordered government seizure of plants or industries involved in the war effort, this was the first time he has ordered seizure of any municipal facility.

He said in an executive order that "the war effort is being and will be unduly impeded or delayed" by an interruption of operation of the power plants, water works and distribution system of the city.

More than 2,500 of the 5,700 employees of the city water and power department are striking for an eight per cent wage increase, or a flat $15 monthly boost.

Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles had telegraphed Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson a request the Army take over the municipal department.

The first cross-continental flight was made in 1911 by Calbraith P. Rogers, who flew from New York to Pasadena, California, in 59 days.

FLIGHT from LOVE

by JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY AP Features

Chapter 28. It was three o'clock in the afternoon. Sun was streaming in the kitchen windows and falling in warm, yellow squares on the blue linoleum. Kay was bending over the dishpan and Julie had just dried and put away the last warm dish. The morning "Times" spread open on the chair.

"According to the paper," Kay said lightly, "those fliers will arrive here about eight tonight and then be taken directly to the Biltmore for the banquet."

"I know," Julie said. "Maybe Dave can slip away long enough to call me on the phone..." There was a note of doubt in her voice.

Kay saw the shadow cross her face. She slipped an arm around Julie's waist and said, "Now, don't worry about it honey, I'm sure he'll call."

"If he didn't I really couldn't blame him. I can see now why he didn't want the Julie Brampton that he knew back home. Honestly, Kay, I was a terrible snob."

"I know he's crazy about you. Men don't look at girls the way he kept looking at you that day in the canyon unless they really think a lot of them," Kay said encouragingly.

"I wish I had your confidence." Kay had invited Jack to come over for dinner at seven. At first he had insisted that both girls go out with him some place to eat but Kay knew that Julie wouldn't want to get far away from the telephone. As usual he appeared at the door exactly as the clock was striking for the seventh time.

"Hmmm," Jack sniffed. "Something smells good in here. What's cooking?"

"Something very special," Kay said. "Spaghetti a la Perino. We've worked half the day on the darned stuff and if you don't rave about it you're liable to have two very angry women tangled up in your hair."

All during the meal and afterward when the dishes had been cleared away and the three were playing gin rummy, Kay and Jack kept up a rapid fire of light, bantering, nonsensical patter. Kay kept watching out of the corner of her eyes and as the evening wore on she could see the tension increase in Julie's face.

At nine o'clock Julie got up suddenly, tossed her cards on the table and swept from the room. The bedroom door closed sharply and Kay looked across the table at Jack.

"The poor kid's about a nervous wreck waiting for that phone call," Kay said.

Jack looked moody and unhappy. "It does seem to me that Dave could have gotten to a phone long enough to call her. He should know that she would expect it," Kay said.

"Maybe he'll call later," Jack suggested, "after the banquet's over."

"Yeah probably after we've gone to work," said Kay bitterly. "A lot of good that'll do her."

The Biltmore banquet room was filled to capacity. Hundreds packed the rows of tables. Under the soft lights, white shirt fronts and glittering evening gowns merged into a symphony of color.

Marek was seated with three other men from the studio, and growing a little impatient. The place was charged with excitement. It was eight-thirty. Yet the chairs that surrounded the speakers' table were empty.

Suddenly though the drone of conversation the shrill cry of police sirens filled the room. A few minutes later the line of khaki-clad air-men filed across the room and took their places at the table of honor.

Toward the end of the banquet the fliers were introduced.

Marek studied David Rutledge when his turn came, his serious, clear-cut face, his quiet unassuming way of speaking as he lauded the cooperation of ground crew, workers in the plane factories who had built the finest planes in the skies.

"The speeches were over and long lines were forming to congratulate the heroes. Marek edged into one of the lines and inched his way along with the others. David didn't recognize him at first.

"Your face is familiar," he said. Marek told him who he was.

"That's what war can do to you," Dave laughed. His gaze moved past Marek as he said it, and disappointment showed in it.

"Julie didn't come with you?"

"No. Matter of fact, I asked her but—"

"Oh sure. Stuffy civic affairs aren't much in Julie's line. I saw some magazine articles about her. Looks like she's doing all right."

A number of answers flashed through Marek's mind. But then it wasn't his business to tell Julie's friends her change of plans. He said merely, "Julie's a great girl."

The line was crowding up on Marek, pushing him impatiently along. He thought of Julie's tenseness last night when he'd told her of Dave being here. Probably been waiting all evening beside the phone. He turned back.

"You'll see her before you leave town?"

Dave was shaking hands with the man behind Marek, "Afrad! I can't be said to Marek. 'We're leaving early in the morning, you know.'"

Marek shook hands with the other heroes absent. He was filled with a kind of bitter relief. Relief because the one stumbling block to his own happiness had, of its own accord, rolled out of his path. No man after a life and death seige like Attu would pass through a girl's town and not get in touch with her unless he was completely indifferent. Even Julie must see this.

Bitter because of the agony this seeing was going to be to Julie—

Dam it, why couldn't the man at least have called her? If he had only been a fight—or another woman!

Julie had spirit. She would have

Surgeon's Flight To Yukon Wilds Saved Life Of Sergeant

Whitehorse, Y. T., Feb. 23 (AP)—Major W. T. (Bill) Joyce, 34-year-old Scranton, Pa., surgeon, was notified last November that an Army sergeant was near death of acute appendicitis deep in the Yukon wilderness—far from medical help.

A Canadian bush pilot, Leslie Cook, offered to fly the Medical Corps surgeon and a fellow officer, Capt. Eugene Moskowitz, of Mount Vernon, New York, to the sick man's bedside.

A snow storm raged, the ceiling was "practically zero," and records journey and landing the plane safely.

But he did, and with the officers aboard. And, in a log cabin, with the wind howling outside, Joyce performed an appendectomy that saved the soldier's life.

The story was revealed yesterday when Joyce and Moskowitz were awarded soldier's medals.

Star Of Silent Films Expires

Darby, Pa., Feb. 23 (AP)—J. Darby Sherry, veteran movie actor who played leading roles in important early cinemas, died in a hospital yesterday, two weeks after he suffered a heart attack at the Edward Forrest Home for Actors in Philadelphia. He was 73.

Sherry, one of the first prominent actors to go into the movies, was the screen's first "ruffles" and a leading man in the old Triangle Film corporation, formed by Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford and William S. Hart.

He portrayed the Pope in "The Eternal City," was General Robert E. Lee in the screen's first "Dixie," and was in the casts of "Ben Hur" and "The White Sister."

been angry then. She might have come back to the studio next day—or maybe straight to him.

Anything would have been easier for her than this. He knew women well enough to know what indifference could do to them. She might drag on out there like a zombie for months or years.

Henry Zimmers from the Reporter had come up. "What about a drink?" "I could use one," Marek said shortly.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 23 (AP)—The Women's National Radio Committee which annually makes program awards in particular categories, has been conducting a study on how it believes radio can aid in meeting the juvenile delinquency problem. The result is four suggestions to networks and stations.

One is that such entertainers as Fred Allen, Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra and others include in their programs material "which will indirectly bear upon the problem." The committee adds that Eddie Cantor and Bob Hope are among those already incorporating similar ideas in their broadcasts.

Another suggestion would have "radio figures especially celebrated for the wholesomeness of their appeal, for example Kate Smith and Ginny Simms, address messages to parents stressing the importance of keeping alive the right kind of home relationship."

YOUNG HEIRESS TO CROWN WILL BE 18 APRIL 21

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
The Associated Press

London—With the observance of her eighteenth birthday April 21 Britain's fresh-cheeked and attractive Princess Elizabeth will say a long farewell to most of the simple pleasures of girlhood, and how closer to that course which must be followed by all who one day may rule.

For this anniversary will be the royal coming of age, the beginning of the responsibilities of maturity. Statecraft and social consciousness become more than symbols in the syntax of her elders. And most important of all, perhaps, for the princess personally, will be the matter of her marriage at a suitable time.

Princess Elizabeth hit the top headlines a year ago when her seventeenth birthday, signpost of transition from childhood to grown-up stage, reminded a lot of people over the world that the elder daughter of the British sovereigns was no longer playing with dolls and riding tricycles. Newspaper and magazine writers discussed her training, her developing human qualities, her potentialities as a leader.

Engagement rumors increased with the passing of the months. One such had it that Princess Elizabeth had been betrothed either to the Duke of Rutland or the Earl of Euston, each 24 years old, and that a formal announcement would be made on Elizabeth's eighteenth birthday.

Buckingham Palace spokesmen were told quickly that the rumor was unfounded, but they decided after a long huddle to issue no official denial, reasoning that a denial would increase the publicity and establish a troublesome precedent; every report, however trifling, concerning Princess Elizabeth, or for that matter, any other member of the royal family, would have to be disposed of in similar fashion.

These rumors, inevitable considering that any of perhaps a dozen young bachelors would be eligible as consort to Elizabeth, have tightened the traditional reticence at the palace. Not only are the palace advisers and secretaries unwilling to talk about a possible match for Elizabeth, but they hesitate to particularize even about the aspects of her life that have nothing to do with romance or match-making.

In Public Eye
At eighteen Princess Elizabeth manifestly is being prepared to come more and more before the public eye, however. Already a bill has been enacted by Parliament providing that she shall be eligible after her birthday to serve on the Council of State, which in certain circumstances acts for the king. Last fall she fulfilled her first grown-up public social engagement, presenting medals, as president of Royal College of Music, to a number of students. She has inspected troops, attended the theater in the west end, played in Christmas pantomimes, appeared at dances, meeting Americans as well as her own people.

She was present when several United States Army officers, winners of the Distinguished Service Cross for action in North Africa or Sicily, were presented to the king and queen at the palace late last year. Three whom Princess Elizabeth impressed with her charm and poise were Major James B. Carvey, Newburgh, N. Y.; Capt. John Pinke, of Saginaw, Mich., and Vicksburg, Miss., and Capt. Quentin Roosevelt, of Oyster Bay, Long Island, son of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt.

Like American Girl
"She didn't say much, of course, but the way she said it pleased you right away," Capt. Pinke said. "She reminded me a lot of some of our American girls."

Princess Elizabeth now will have her own staff—comptroller, secretary, lady's maid and others. She lives in her own rooms and when the king and queen are away she and her sister cook their meals. Elizabeth is reported to be a skillful and imaginative cook.

Slim and girlish in figure, standing five feet six inches unshod, Elizabeth's bearing is one of clear-eyed alertness. Thanks to her outdoor activities and the regularity of her life she is aglow with health; golden gleams are in her darkening naturally wavy hair; her eyes are large and blue-gray.

Her simplicity and friendly manner are akin to her mother's, but she has what palace spokesmen call an especially strong sense of responsibility and a conscientiousness that are markedly reminiscent of both her grandmother, Queen Mary, and Queen Victoria.

May Travel
For some time it has been planned that Elizabeth travel extensively after reaching her majority, the trips including visits to the dominions and the United States, possibly South America. How soon these plans can be put into practice depends, of course, upon the length of the war.

The British public, meanwhile, wonders which of the eligible bachelors will win the princess. Foreign princelings are at a dis-

Town Employees At Sharpsburg Strike

Pittsburgh, Feb. 23 (AP)—Sharpsburg borough continued using emergency light and water service today as 19 employees of the borough's water and light plant remained on a strike that started at midnight Monday.

The workers are demanding recognition of an AFL Operating Engineers' Local union and payment of the "union scale." G. Earle Allen, business agent of the local, said.

Councilman Lawrence Bragg, chairman of the Sharpsburg Light and Water committee, said he had no objection to recognizing the union but the borough couldn't pay an increase of $25 to $30 a month for engineers and $15 to $20 for apprentice engineers.

Bragg said a 10 per cent wage increase was granted January 1. The Duquesne Light company is supplying light on an emergency basis and the city of Pittsburgh is furnishing water.

LIST NATIONAL SERVICE AS BIG CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Washington, Feb. 23 (AP)—National service legislation was marked today for a Presidential campaign issue when sponsors let it be known that they will make no attempt to force a showdown in Congress on the subject before the November election.

Despite recent War and Navy department pressure for early action, members said the Senate Military committee probably would delay a test vote for several months.

Secretary of War Simson already has endorsed the proposal to make men and women subject to a work draft and the committee has arranged to hear Navy Secretary Knox on Thursday. Knox is expected to make a strong plea that the measure be considered favorably at once.

Current sentiment within the committee apparently is about three to one against the proposal. Proposed by FDR
While Senator Austin (R-Vt.), one of the authors of the bill, said he hoped it would not become the subject of partisan debate, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he did not see how it could fail to become an issue because of violent opposition by organized labor.

President Roosevelt, in his opening message to Congress January 11, proposed enactment of a national service law to prevent strikes. But he added that he would not make any such proposal unless other laws were passed to keep down the cost of living, to share equitably the burdens of taxation, to hold the stabilization line and to prevent undue profits.

Congress has not yet done any of these things to his satisfaction and, presumably, he would not be in favor of work draft legislation until it does.

Mercury Rises After Rain Storm

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 23 (AP)—Temperatures in northwestern Pennsylvania surged up past 40 from a low of eight below here on Saturday, during and after a sudden summer-like electric and rain storm last night.

The weather observer reported 1.47 inches of rain fell within an hour and 20 minutes here. Many streets were flooded and some were slightly damaged.

AMNESIA VICTIM

Philadelphia, Feb. 23 (AP)—A girl amnesia victim, found wandering in city hall, awaited identification at a hospital today. The girl's purse contained a pennant reading "Boost Butler High" and also the stub of a Pittsburgh-Greensburg bus ticket. She said she thought her friends called her "Martie" and that her father's name was Stephen.

count in these days, so it is likely that Elizabeth will marry a young man she has met or will meet at the royal lodge in Windsor Great Park, the royal family's home. Elizabeth has met many young men, mostly members of the royal household or sons of the Queen's Scottish friends, at small parties, and during her trips to Scotland has met sons of Scottish families, some older than the Windsor line itself.

Royal blood is not necessarily a qualification—the Queen herself was a commoner, member of the Bowes-Lyon family.

George, Viscount Lascelles, eldest son of Mary, the Princess Royal and one of Elizabeth's closest boy friends, is ruled out as he's a first cousin, and too much royal intermarriage in the past has set the present rulers against such a match. Amongst the eligibles, too, are many sons of the Queen's ladies-in-waiting and the King's equerries, one of whom is 19-year-old Viscount Althorp, son of Countess Spencer, blue-eyed, fair-haired, tall and athletic.

There are also two of the Duchess of Northumberland's sons, Lord Richard Percy, 22, and Lord Geoffrey Percy, 18, both of whom Elizabeth has met and danced with.

She has also met many young guards officers who have attended her parties, and a considerable number of American officers.

NAZIS RETREAT TO NEW LINES ON RED FRONT

London, Feb. 23 (AP)—German troops, routed from the great iron city of Krivoi Rog by the Red Army yesterday, are retreating westward toward the Bug river, a Soviet communiqué said today as Premier Stalin announced that in one year the Nazis have been driven from almost three-quarters of the territory they had occupied since invading Russia in the summer of 1941.

A major military prize, Krivoi Rog was captured by Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army after a bitter four-months' siege.

"The enemy suffered enormous losses in manpower and equipment," the Russian communiqué reported. "Thousands of enemy dead littered approaches to the city and its streets."

"Remnants of the routed enemy... seeking safety in flight, have abandoned many guns, mortars, machine-guns and trucks. Soviet forces captured large dumps of military equipment."

One Escape Gap
Moscow dispatches said only a narrow escape gap along the lower Dnieper river to the west remains open to the retreating Nazis. Kheron and Nikolaev, the latter city 95 miles southwest of Krivoi Rog at the mouth of the Bug, are probable immediate objectives of the Red Army.

Maxey Scores Full Federal Dependence

Philadelphia, Feb. 23 (AP)—Chief Justice George W. Maxey of Pennsylvania characterizes as "either an ignorant or a fraud" any person who believes that the government "can and should provide freedom from want and freedom from fear."

"Freedom from want is not a gift of government at all," he told the Sons of the Revolution in Congress hall. "It is a gift of God only to the extent that God helps those who help themselves."

The jurist said he favored "48 self-governed commonwealths in place of a totalitarian state controlled by a permanent occupant of the White House."

At the same time, the Soviet Information Bureau, reviewing the reverses suffered by the Germans since the first of the year said in a broadcast statement:

"The German Fascist war machine has been placed by the Red Army on the verge of complete defeat."

On the northern front, meanwhile, Soviet forces under Gen. Leonid A. Govorov and K. A. Meretskov moved closer to the city of Pskov, gateway to the Baltics, where the Red Army had its baptism of fire 26 years ago today.

The Moscow War bulletin said that Russian troops pushing south-west from Luga captured the town of Bukino, 51 miles northeast of Pskov, and that other units driving west from Lake Ilmen liberated more than 200 occupied centers.
